

LANDSCAPE MANAGEMENT FOR FUNCTIONAL BIODIVERSITY

9th Meeting of the IOBC-WPRS Working Group

15-18 March 2022, Milan (IT)

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITY

The 9th Meeting of the IOBC-WPRS Working Group "Landscape Management for Functional Biodiversity" will take place at the University of Milan from the 15th to the 18th of March 2022.

Considering public concern about the decline of biodiversity and the role of agriculture and urban environment in contributing to this decline, the Working Group acts as a platform for exchange of concepts and research results. While intensive management practices are standard practice in conventional farming systems, their undesirable side effects are increasingly recognized. There is consequently a growing interest for a transition towards more ecologically-based methodologies, but there remain many scientific challenges.

The aim of the meeting is to bring together the latest insights on current topics in landscape management for functional biodiversity, including the management for multiple ecosystem services, the identification of promising crop and non-crop management options to support biodiversity-based pest management, and initiatives to meet the challenge to halt the ongoing decline of important farmland species. This moment will be important to identify promising areas for future research.
